Film project „GI Baby: Who is my Dad?“

Dear Mr. Alexiou,

The subject of your TV documentary project reflects on an important chapter concerning the relationship between Germany and the United States. The fate of so-called German “GI kids” is a subject area not sufficiently dealt with in our society. Those children were separated from their US-GI fathers who were stationed in Germany after 1945 and moved back to the US, leaving the children uncertain about their identity and whereabouts. The reunification of these people forms an important and valuable contribution to the German-U.S. friendship.

Illustrating the curricula and dilemmas of GI kids and their families in a TV documentary is a good strategic tool to make their problems known to a wider audience and thus to convey a positive handling of this topic.

I therefore hope you will find sufficient support from television stations and other partners and wish you successfulness for the implementation of your project.

With kind regards

André Schmitz
